FEEDBACK PROCESS

Introduction

The college promptly collects and assesses the feedback from its stakeholders viz. parents, alumni, students and teachers. A format is prepared and distributed among all the stakeholders on different occasions. After an expert analysis the matters are discussed among the members of the faculty before communicating it to the authorities concerned.

Parental Feedback

The parents of the students of this college are keen in the studies of their children. They take good care in giving creative and suitable feedback on the curriculum followed by the students. The Institution collects feedback from parents on the occasion of the annual PTA meetings well as in the Department-wise PTA meetings. The feedback format is formulated to analyse the size of the syllabus and the work load on students, compatibility of the programme with the preceding courses, extra reading demanded from the students, availability of text books and reference materials, flexibility of the syllabus, availability of e-resources, proportionality of the syllabus to the hours available, application level of the text books, support for further studies and innovations of course contents.

The parental feedback is collected in the form of questionnaire with a six grade rating scale. Most of the parents are happy with the course content but many were of the opinion that the work load on students is really heavy and they have to go through the syllabus in a rush before the examination. Also there came a comment that the present curriculum gives scope for only an exam oriented way of studies as the students get little time to master their subject. Parents informally requested the introduction of uniforms to ensure uniformity among the students of all classes. So the college took up the task of distributing stitched uniforms to the students and this has fixed a proper dress code for the students.

Alumni

Feedbacks from Alumni are usually taken on the Annual Alumni meeting. Feedback forms are kept in the departments for collecting feedback from the alumni when they visit the departments or on departmental alumni meetings. To evaluate the learning atmosphere provided to the students a feedback on the institution is also taken from all the alumni where they assessed the quality of teachers, promotions of co-curricular and extension activities, general administration of the college, admission procedure, library, supporting services and other infrastructural facilities. Almost all the students were happy with the facilities and ambience they had in the college.

Teachers

Feedback were duly collected from teachers also. As a community that keeps in touch with the different syllabus revisions and the student standards time to time, the most expert and resourceful suggestions were obtained from them. It is notable that teachers from most of the departments were satisfied with the density of the curriculum offered by the university but most students disagree with that as they hesitated to mark the parameters given to them as excellent.

2. FEEDBACK MECHANISM:

Feedback obtained periodically from various stakeholders helps alleviate the academic concerns motivates the students and faculty to improve their performance. Feedback is taken into consideration and corrective measures/improvements are made by the head of the departments and Principal. If necessary, these are forwarded to the management for further action. Feedback from various sources has significantly improved academic activities, effective usage of teaching-learning resources, and students' professional career advancements.

Feedback on course content delivery and outcome-based education:

Course feedback is generated from the theory and laboratory courses in every semester and final year students complete the program exit survey. This is gathered from two different approaches that are considered for soliciting the student feedback such as immediate feedback through the meeting, and surveys and questionnaires for students to fill out the forms digitally. The following table provides an overview of two different approaches to gathering student feedback:

Feedback Type Meetings/survey forms Collective / Immediate meetings

- Mentor-Mentee Meeting
- Class In-charge Meeting
- Class representative Meeting
- Course content coverage Monitoring
- Course end semester Meeting

Survey and Questionnaire

- Feedback on Faculty
- Feedback on course outcomes
- Course end Survey

6. what are your advice for further improvements on our students to meet your company needs? *

Create a culture of true open communication, and productivity will improve as a result of a more positive office morale. Encourage communication, collaboration, and feedback between departments, as well as between management and staff. This will liven up the stream of ideas, resulting in a more productive team overall.

7. About our Placement cell: *

Placement cells help students know about the industry they are getting into. They will be heading out into the professional world with a lot more awareness and preparation. This is, of course, the main aim of a placement cell – getting students placed in good companies, where they can start their careers.

REPORT

No of Students Enrolled: 59

No of Students Certified: 54

No of students Absent: 05

Objectives:

The objective of the course provides the knowledge on exploration of method development, validation, and insights analysis of botanical compounds using HPTLC can have several important objectives. This objective aims to enhance their laboratory skills and techniques.

Note: Certificate will be issued only for the students attending more than three days

Learning outcome:

- Understanding of the fundamental principles of chromatography, including the sample mechanisms, sample interaction.
- Selection of appropriate stationary phase and mobile phase.
- To perform validation experiments, including assessing parameters such as linearity, precision, accuracy and specificity.
- To identify and characterize spots on HPTLC plates, determining R<sub>f</sub> values and recognizing various compounds based on their visual appearance.
- The students were actively participated in this course and gained knowledge.

MULTIPLE CHOICE QUESTIONS

I. CHOOSE THE CORRECT ANSWER:

TOTAL MARKS: 30X1=20

1) What does HPTLC stand for?

- a) High-Performance Temperature Liquid Chromatography
- b) High-Performance Thin-Layer Chromatography
- c) High-Pressure Thin-Layer Chromatography
- d) High-Precision Thin-Layer Chromatography

2) HPTLC is a separation technique primarily used for:

- a) Identifying elements in a mixture
- b) Separating and quantifying components in a mixture
- c) Determining the pH of a solution
- d) Measuring the boiling point of a compound

3) In HPTLC, the separation of components occurs based on differences in:

- a) Density
- b) Color
- c) Polarity
- d) Temperature

4) Which of the following techniques can be used to visualize compounds separated on an HPTLC plate?

- a) UV absorption
- b) Mass spectrometry
- c) Infrared spectrum
- d) X-ray crystallography

5) What is the main advantage of using a standardized chamber for HPTLC development?

- a) It reduces the separation efficiency
- b) It provides a controlled environment for development
- c) It speeds up the development process
- d) It eliminates the need for a stationary phase

6) In HPTLC development, what is the primary purpose of calibration standards?

- a) To determine the thickness of the stationary phase
- b) To assess the quality of the mobile phase
- c) To quantify the concentration of analytes in the sample
- d) To clean the HPTLC plate

7) Which of the following is a common application of HPTLC in the pharmaceutical industry?

- a) Determining DNA sequences
- b) Analyzing pesticide residues in fruits and vegetables
- c) Monitoring drug purity and quality
- d) Measuring pH levels in solutions

8) In clinical laboratories, HPTLC can be used for:

- a) Diagnosing bacterial infections
- b) Identifying blood types
- c) Analyzing blood sugar levels
- d) Assessing blood pressure

9) What is the primary advantage of using HPTLC for analyzing herbal extracts compared to other techniques?

- a) It is faster
- b) It requires smaller sample amounts
- c) It does not require any specialized equipment
- d) It is less expensive

10) What term is commonly used to describe the use of plants or plant-derived substances for medicinal purposes?

- a) Botanical gardening
- b) Herbalism
- c) Floristry
- d) Ethnobotany

11) The study of the traditional knowledge and customs of a particular culture related to the use of plants for medicinal purposes is known as:

- a) Pharmacology
- b) Ethnobotany
- c) Horticulture
- d) Mycology

12) Bitter melons like Aloe vera are often used in skincare products due to their:

- a) Antioxidant properties
- b) Anticoagulant properties
- c) Antiseptic properties
- d) Antibacterial properties

13) What is the primary purpose of testing botanical raw materials?

- a) To assess the aesthetic qualities of the plant material
- b) To determine the economic value of the plant material
- c) To ensure the safety, quality, and efficacy of botanical products
- d) To facilitate plant breeding and cultivation

- a) Particle size analysis
- b) Loss on drying
- c) Ash content
- d) Disintegration time

15) Which organization provides guidelines and standards for the quality control of herbal products and botanical raw materials?

- a) Food and Drug Administration (FDA)
- b) World Health Organization (WHO)
- c) American Botanical Council (ABC)

- 4) Which of the following techniques can be used to visualize compounds separated on an HPTLC plate?
- UV absorption
  - Mass spectrometry
  - Infrared spectroscopy
  - X-ray crystallography
- 5) What is the main advantage of using a standardized chamber for HPTLC development?
- It reduces the separation efficiency
  - It provides a controlled environment for development
  - It speeds up the development process
  - It eliminates the need for a stationary phase
- 6) In HPTLC development, what is the primary purpose of calibration standards?
- To determine the thickness of the stationary phase
  - To assess the quality of the mobile phase
  - To quantify the concentration of analytes in the sample
  - To clean the HPTLC plate
- 7) Which of the following is a common application of HPTLC in the pharmaceutical industry?
- Determining DNA sequences
  - Analyzing pesticide residues in fruits and vegetables
  - Measuring drug purity and quality
  - Measuring pH levels in solutions
- 8) In clinical laboratories, HPTLC can be used for:
- Diagnosing bacterial infections
  - Identifying blood types
  - Analyzing blood sugar levels
  - Assessing blood pressure

9) What is the primary advantage of using HPTLC for analyzing herbal extracts compared to other techniques?

- a) It is faster
- b) It requires smaller sample amounts
- c) It does not require any specialized equipment
- d) It is less expensive

10) What term is commonly used to describe the use of plants or plant-derived substances for medicinal purposes?

- a) Botanical gardening
- b) Herbalism
- c) Floristry
- d) Ethnobotany

11) The study of the traditional knowledge and customs of a particular culture related to the use of plants for medicinal purposes is known as:

- a) Pharmacology
- b) Ethnobotany
- c) Horticulture
- d) Mycology

12) Botanicals like Aloe vera are often used in skincare products due to their:

- a) Antioxidant properties
- b) Anticoagulant properties
- c) Antiemetic properties
- d) Antibacterial properties

13) What is the primary purpose of testing botanical raw materials?

- a) To assess the sedative qualities of the plant material
- b) To determine the economic value of the plant material
- c) To ensure the safety, quality, and efficacy of botanical products
- d) To facilitate plant breeding and cultivation

14) Which quality control parameter helps assess the presence of foreign matter in botanical raw materials, such as dirt, leaves, or stems?

- a) Particle size analysis
- b) Loss on drying
- c) Ash content
- d) Disintegration time

15) Which organization provides guidelines and standards for the quality control of herbal products and botanical raw materials?

- a) Food and Drug Administration (FDA)
- b) World Health Organization (WHO)
- c) American Botanical Council (ABC)
- d) International Union for Conservation of Nature (IUCN)

16) Why is testing for heavy metals important in the quality control of botanicals?

- a) Heavy metals enhance the medicinal properties of botanicals.
- b) Heavy metals are a natural component of all botanicals.
- c) Heavy metal contamination can be harmful to human health.
- d) Heavy metals improve the taste of botanical products.

17) What is the primary purpose of conducting organoleptic testing in quality control?

- a) To assess the botanical's chemical composition
- b) To evaluate the material's sensory characteristics like taste, colour, and odour
- c) To measure the botanical's microbial load
- d) To determine the botanical's shelf life

18) What is the term for the process of verifying that a botanical product meets established quality standards and specifications?

- a) Botanical validation
- b) Botanical authentication
- c) Quality assurance
- d) Quality control
